Break Through® Weekend Retreat for singles, couples and families

Are You Asking...

How do I create relationships that last? Where has the joy and in love feeling gone? Is it time to leave or time to learn? How do we communicate without arguing? How do we set and respect boundaries? How do we deal with differences? How do I make a better choice in my next relationship? How do we stop unnecessary chaos and drama? How did sex become boring? How do I put equality, fairness and ecstasy back in my relationship?

This weekend gives you the tools to...

1. Create and respect your own boundaries
2. Create deeper communication and ways to resolve conflict without arguing
3. Understand what does work and what does not work in successful relationships
4. Understand why you have chosen this particular or past partners and what you need to learn
5. Forgive past pain and injury and move on to create success
6. Make commitments to yourself and others that last
7. Understand the normal phases that relationships go through.
8. Make better choices for yourself as a single person
9. Create safe, meaningful, deep healing together
10. Wake up and cherish each other and your contracts
11. Bring the aliveness, love and passion back!
